Sensational Incidents in the Hubbard Trial.

TRIAL HAS REACHED THE EPITHET STAGE

He is Not Afraid of Powers.

Good progress was made in the trial of the Hubbard case yesterday. The proceedings have reached the stage where the attorneys are calling one characterized by mild sensations. One was a set-to of an unusually stren-uous nature between Judge rowers and Serator Kearns received from Rome yesterday a magnificent painting of the holy family, together with a number of pleces of Carrara marble statuettes. The cenator prizes the picture as high-handsomely framed. It portrays Jesus as lad of about 12 years, entering the doorway of his father's carpenter shop with a unified of rushes in his arms sift to him from Cavdinal Satolii. The presentation occurred while Senator Kearns was in Rome.

He was visiting the cardinal's art gallery one day, and, noticing this painting on an easel, admired it extremely, "Do you like that olciure," Cardinal Satolii asked.

"Very nuch," was the reply.

"Well I want you to take it back to ask the cardinal to psenator from me," sed as the cardinal to psenator from me," sed as the cardinal to psenator from me," sed as the cardinal to psenator from me, and a the cardinal to psenator was not of his entertainers. Says He Was Robbed.

John Hoffman, a Rio Grande labor er, complained to the police tha some soldier had robbed him of a gold watch yesterday. According to his statement, he went into a Statistreet saloon, he couldn't tell which one, and sat down at a table with a friend. The friend left, he said, and soldier, wearing a uniform, came and sat down in the room. Hoffman say he went to sleep with the watch in his pocket and awoke a short time late to find it gone. The soldier, he said was also gone and he had robbed him The officers advised him to lay his cas before the county attorney today, and City Treasurer Morris has collected about $40,000 on account of the tax asbefore the county attorney today, a
